Superintendent Allen P. Burkhardt confers with his daughter, Grace, a senior at Norfolk High School.

Undoubtedly the busiest man in Norfolk's school system is Dr. Allen P. Burkhardt, superintendent of schools. In addition to heading the grade schools, junior high and senior high, he is president of Norfolk Junior College. This year Dr. Burkhardt completes his twenty-fifth year in the Norfolk system. Being one of the most successful and capable administrators in the state, he has done much in keeping the Norfolk system at the top of educational standards.

One of the most important branches of Norfolk's school system is its efficient school board. It is through the school board and superintendent that Norfolk has achieved its high position among schools in Nebraska and attained the lowest mill levy among the Class A schools of the state. Members of the Board of Education, pictured below, include: Mr. Bruce Henning, Mr. Clarence Isaacson, Mr. Walter Steffen, Mr. Robert Harrison, Mrs. Lillian Robinette, Dr. Allen P. Burkhardt, Mr. Fred Muller, Mr. N. R. Hoover.

Members of the Board of Education for the Norfolk public school system take a break at one of their regular monthly meetings.

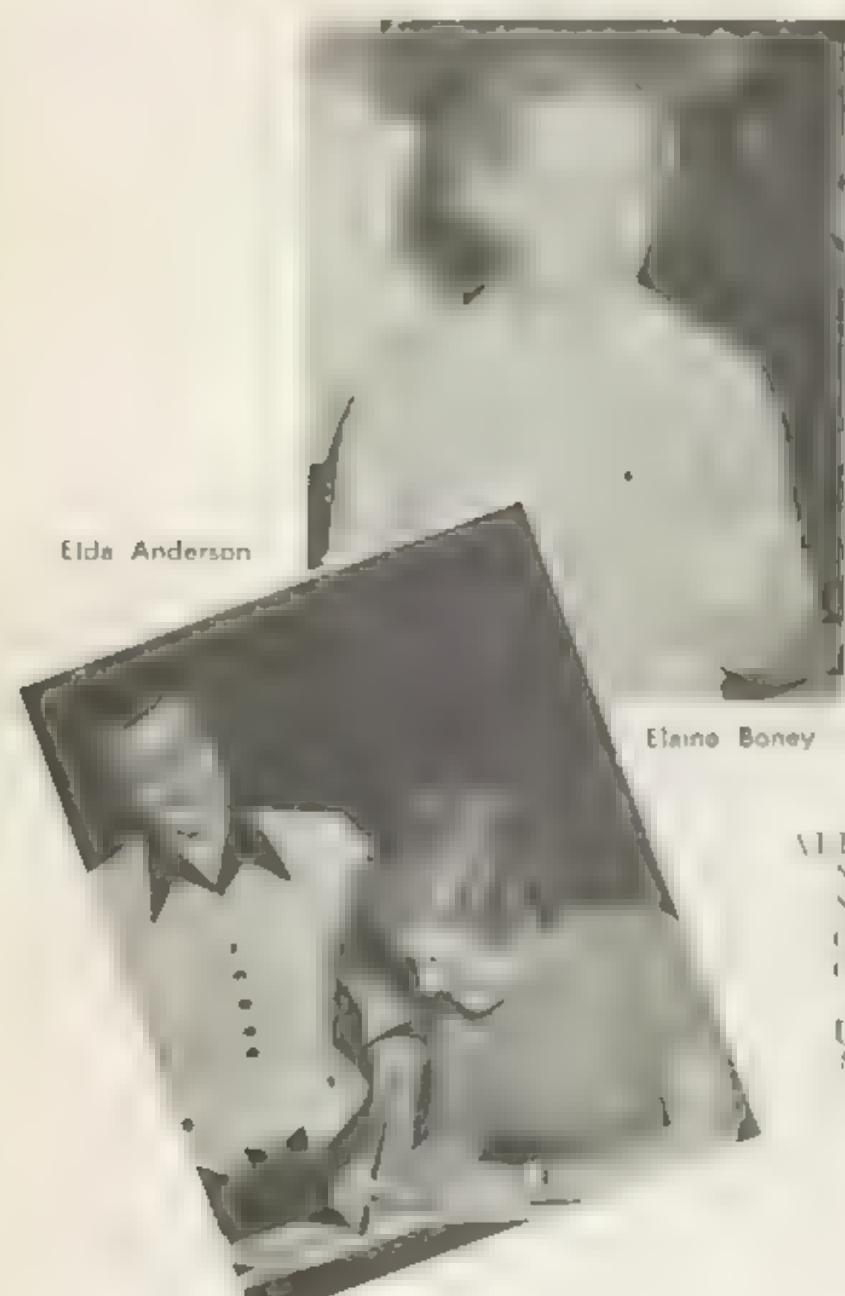

As principal of Norfolk Senior High School, Mr. Theodore P. Seststad has the vital job of keeping the school functioning efficiently as well as offering his valuable advice and guidance to the many students who confront him each day.

Mr. Niels Wodder is the assistant principal and also handles disciplinary cases. He teaches a class in aviation and is a very capable vocational guidance director.

Mrs. Lillian Robinette and Mrs. Delmar Rae, secretaries in the superintendent's office, are kept busy with the various problems and duties involved in their work. In charge of the secretarial work in the principal's office is Miss Helen Wolt (not pictured).

In September of 1946, 139 green freshmen crept past the doors of NHS and gazed with awe down the long halls filled with bustling upper classmen, and up at the serene statue of Abe Lincoln who seemed to rule the Lower Hall. They blundered into the wrong classes at the wrong times the first few weeks, but they soon became accustomed to the new routines.

They chose for leaders the first semester Dick Barger, president; Charles Bugenhagen, vice-president; Vey Reineccius, secretary; and Marilyn Clark, treasurer.

During the course of the year the debaters brought many laurels to their class through their outstanding performance. The second semester elections brought Charles Gomon, president; Bob Barnes, vice-president; Marilyn Clark, secretary; and Janet Burkhardt, treasurer, to the front as leaders of this class.

At the close of the year the "silly sophis" were entertained royally by the frosh at a picnic at Ta-Ha-Zouka, as is the custom.

Leading the sophis through the second semester were Dan Gimbel, president; Bill McGarry, vice-president; Marilyn Clark, secretary; and Janet Burkhardt, treasurer.

When the junior year began they took up their duties as only lower-upper classmen do. There was the Hare and Hound race which, as is quite the custom, was given to the Senior Class. But of course they had the disadvantages of a cloudy night and a very high wind.

The first semester Dan Gimbel was chosen as president; Bill McGarry, vice-president; Marilyn Clark, secretary, and Janet Burkhardt as treasurer.

Then there was the job of preparing the decorations, food, and entertainment for that memorable night, the Prom. After much debating the Prom committees and sponsors finally decided to use Showboat as their theme. Hard-working committees spent hours, days, weeks, yes, even months planning, building, making table decorations and practicing for entertainment. But when the big night was over everyone knew it had been worth the work and worry.

Field Day was another fight for victory between the two upper classes but the superiors again came out victorious after a fierce battle with those never-say-die juniors.

For the third consecutive time Dan Gimbel was elected president; Bill McGarry, vice-president; Marilyn Clark, secretary; and Janet Burkhardt, treasurer.

Now they are mighty seniors, the upper-upper classmen of the school. First semester officers were Bill McGarry, president; Charles Bugenhagen, vice-president; Marilyn Clark, secretary; and Pat Patterson, treasurer.

Once again the time rolled around for the annual Hare and Hound Race. After careful and very secretive planning for a good hiding place the Hares set out to lose the Hounds. After running for what seemed like miles and miles (and it almost was) up and down hills, the seniors finally came to the designated hiding place. Then as a welcome rest everyone plopped down on the ground and nervously awaited the end of the chase, before the juniors would find them.

At the end of the tramp back to school there was a delicious lunch awaiting 250 tired and hungry students.

In observance of the Christmas holidays Christmas Vespers was again presented at the city auditorium. This service held a special meaning for those seniors who knew it would be the last time that they would sing in such a program in high school.

Second semester elections again brought Bill McGarry to the top as president while Fred Gakle was elected vice-president; Vey Reineccius was secretary and Jeanne Skillstad, treasurer.

This year's Prom was extra special as all the honored seniors had to do was spend hours dressing and then enjoy the evening with no thought of work. The evening was climaxed when three senior girls were presented as Prom Queen and attendants.

Sneak Day found the halls completely empty of the high and mighty seniors who had stolen away for the last meeting for their own class before graduation day arrived.

On May 23, just before Commencement, Senior Day was held in which scholarships and honors were presented to the graduates and they in turn presented a program for the entire school.

Then as the last strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" die away the Class of "50" leaves NHS for the last time with mixed feelings of happiness, regret and triumph.

Juniors

"Exciting and excelling." Those are the words best fitted to describe the life and times of this year's Junior Class.

The class began its active year by electing class officers. Those selected to lead the class through the first semester were Bob Raasch, president; Bob Nelson, vice president; Kay Mathews, secretary; and Jean Steffen, treasurer.

Gabby Girls — Marilyn Deibler, Lorraine Dieter, Shirley Spence, Kay Mathews, Phyllis Erb, Jean Steffen, Irene Bricker, Maxine Froding

Trouble's A'Brewin' — Bob Raasch, Lonny Bottorf, Wayne Mathes, Art Perlingast, Gordon Gakie, Jerry Musseman, Don Ennis, Ronnie Burns, Larry French

The Student Council, still in its infancy at N.H.S., had its share of brains, beauty, and brawn, when the juniors sent Marilyn Deibler, Lorraine Dieter, Ronnie Burns and Rex Menuey as their representatives.

"Oh so near, and yet so far," could well have been the cry of the juniors after this year's traditional Hare and Hound Race. As the final minutes of the race sped by, the junior scouts were only 250 yards from the hiding senior Hares. After they had vainly, but enthusiastically climbed every barbed wire fence, and jumped every gully in Madison County, (or so it seemed), the juniors plodded wearily back to the school gym where welcomed refreshments were awaiting them.

In mid-winter, production was started on the class play, "Jenny Kissed Me." The much-sought-after roles went to: Rex Menuey, George Schipporeit, Marilyn Deibler, JoAnn Peters, Noreen Alderman, Carol Weidner, Bonnie Solfermoser, Kay Mathews, Shirley Spence, Bob Raasch, Amy Brown, Nancy Hoile, Maraleen Callies and Ronnie Burns. Student Directors Jean Steffen and Bill Christian were assisted by hard-working juniors who served on the various play committees, necessary for making the play a success.

Boogie Woogie Concerto — Ruth Keilner, Nancy Hinze, Betty Wolske, Kay Welch, Pat Harmon, Jackie ...

The first big taste of the lives of upperclassmen was felt when the juniors put in orders for their class rings. The rings, those with the school seal on them, were ordered in the late fall and arrived at the end of the first semester.

When the second semester rolled around, the following were elected to act as class officers: George Schipperoit, president; Bob Nelson, vice president; Kay Mathews, secretary, and Jean Steffen, treasurer.

Then in the spring there came that day of all days—Field Day—when all grudges were settled between the two upper classes. Distressed young gals were worrying how to get egg and tomato out of their eyes and hair. But why worry? It was no time until both were washed off by a dunking in the lagoon. The kids and their sponsors did have a good time however, even if the general atmosphere was anything but party-like.

Then all of a sudden, it was upon them. The night all had been waiting for. Their first prom. The fellas hid their excitement behind an air of nonchalance and indifference. The girls didn't try to hide their feelings. The excitement and expectancy they felt radiated from them. Best of all, the hugely successful banquet and prom turned out just as all had dreamed and planned.

Serving as sponsors for the Class of '51 were: Miss Nadine Catron, Buford Grosscup, Miss Ruth Hellman, Luther Heller and Miss Anna Moehring.

Whether it was in athletics, music, cheerleading, dramatics, or any other of the numerous school activities, you could always find some energetic juniors out there giving their "all" for their class, their school, and their community.

This Junior Class of 1951 has set a pace which will be hard to beat; their excelling ways and active school life, leave behind a challenge to all who follow them as juniors at N.H.S.

Sophomores

"He that knows not and knows he knows not . . . is a sophomore, teach him."

This year's sophomores—members of that bright and shining Class of '52—have rapidly proven that this part of the poem quoted above is not true.

With that year of 'experience' as freshmen under their belts, the sophomores readily entered into the spirit of Norfolk High School and took active part in the various extra-curricular organizations.

Sophomores proved outstanding in Norfolk's three major sports, football, basketball and track. There were members of the class in the choir, choralaires, band and orchestra, while others were excelling in debate and journalism. The clubs also drew their share of sophomores in their memberships.

Membership in the service clubs, Minute Men and N'Ergettes, is a high distinction at Norfolk, and several sophomores were honored by being active in these two groups. Minute Men included: Darrell Buettow, Jim Carson, Gerald Moore, Gale Musselman, Jack Putters and John Wisenstine. N'Ergettes included: Marlene Barritt, Cherrill Holmes, Daphne Jones, Margaret Weber, Marlene Tews and Shirley Keeney.

Guiding the destinies of the sophomores were five very capable sponsors, Gerald Daikin, Miss Lillian Durkop, Edgar Hamm, Miss Gertrude Nolte and Kenneth Woolsey. These five faculty members took the class under their wings and aided them in holding elections, planning parties, etc.

Drink It Dry — Jack Putters, Gail Musselman, Wally Walker, Mickey Gray, John Wisenstine, Jim Carson

Sophomore Cogs — Gale Musselman, Shirley Keeney
Marlene Barritt, Dorothy Stevens

In Contact with Knowledge — Phyllis Dalton, Sally Manske, Daphne Jones, Marlene Barritt, Margaret Weber, Barbara Elenberger, Julie Martin

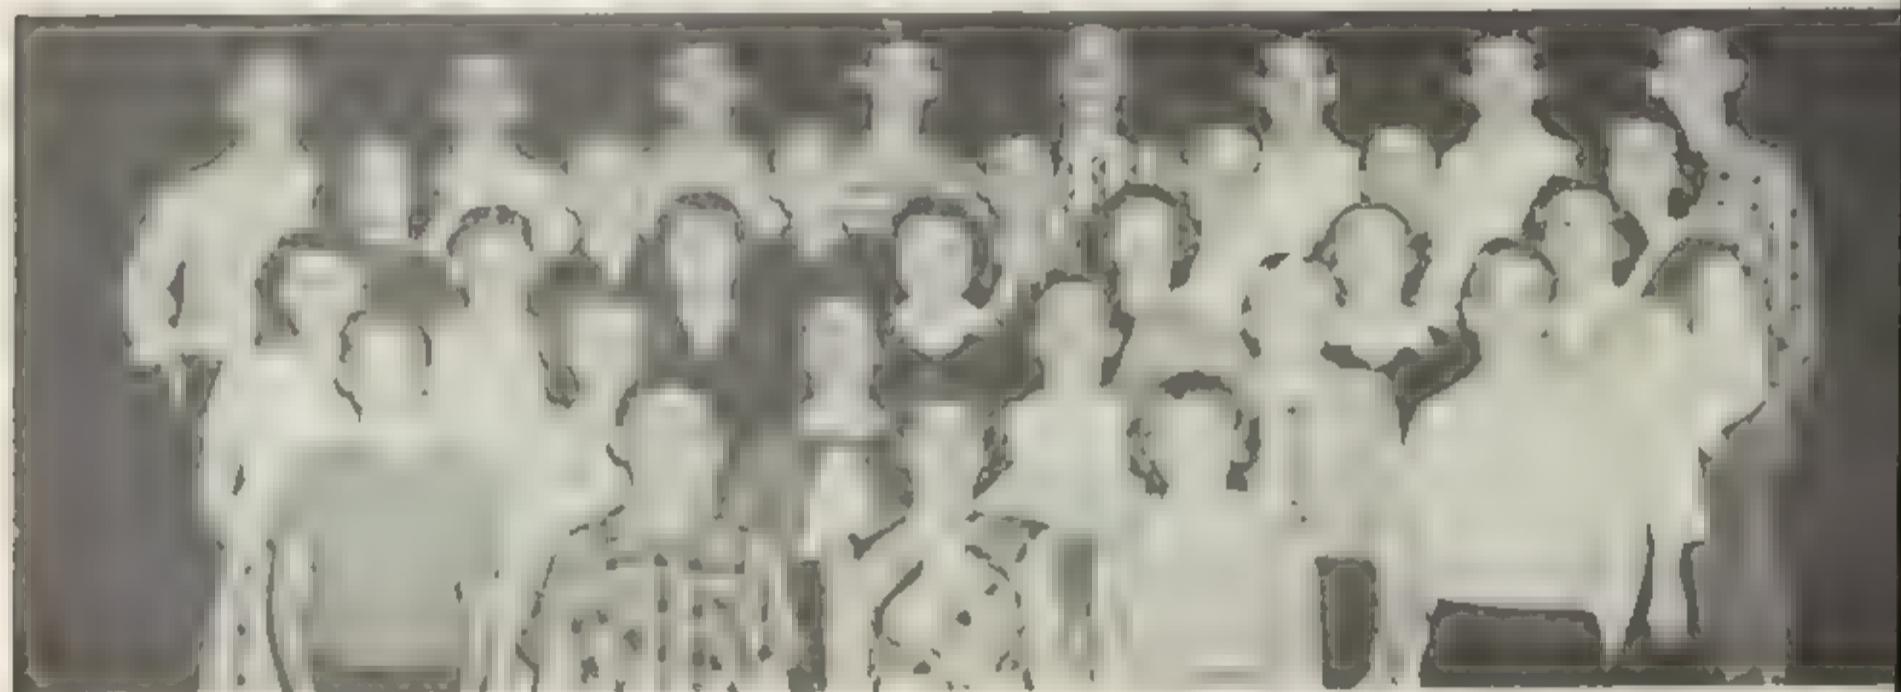

Row 1 — Ray A. Dalton, Donna Farbanks, Marlene Barritt, Helen Carson, Shirley Keeney, Carol Ann Hutton, Daphne Jones, Norma M. Wisenstine.

In the fall, the Class of '40 elected Gale Musselman as its president. Other officers were: Dorothy Stevens, vice president; Shirley Keeney, secretary; and Marlene Barritt, treasurer. Musselman was re-elected as head of the class at the mid-winter elections, while John Wisenstine was elected vice-president. Dorothy Stevens was chosen as secretary and Marlene Barritt was re-elected treasurer.

Sophomores also had an active part on the Student Council with Daphne Jones and Jim Carson serving on the students' governing body.

In their studies, the sophomores excelled (?) in studying "A Tale of Two Cities" as well as Parliamentary Law. An added feature to their classroom activities was a puppet show of Folklore characters, which proved very interesting and was well presented.

The juniors and seniors aren't the only ones in the limelight at the annual Junior-

Senior Prom, for the dinner was served by members of the Sophomore Class. Each six weeks and at the close of each semester there were a large number of sophomores on the honor roll.

The event that really wound up the school year for the class was the annual Freshman-Sophomore picnic. It was a big hit for all who attended and everyone claimed to have a lot of fun and plenty to eat.

Now the members of the Class of '52 stands at the halfway mark in that climb towards the treasured diploma. It has been a long climb, and the next two years will be steep, but it won't be too long before we too are high and mighty seniors.

Recently these sophomores were nondescript freshmen—now check them over. You may not be able to recognize them immediately, but in this group is a Sports King and Queen, Milestone Boy and Girl, Homecoming Queen, Honor Society members, football and basketball captains, and other leaders of Norfolk High School—all are assembled in this class, you'll see!

Again we say, "watch this class!" A successful future for these green members of the Norfolk High student body is predicted by the time they receive their diplomas in May, 1953.

Just because some went to the gym when a convocation was called in the auditorium doesn't prove they can't learn; and maybe the 301 study hall teachers did get tired of explaining that they couldn't have gym classes there. But . . . oh well . . . experience is the best teacher.

After a few hectic weeks of countless mistakes, not to mention the faculty and upperclassmen, the freshmen soon got used to the new routine and settled down to business.

Freshmen

By the end of the year, they had gained renown in both class work and extra-curricular activities.

For the first semester they elected Pete Berge to lead them as president. Other officers were: Dick Farmer, vice-president; Neola Clark, secretary; and JoAnn Lenser, treasurer. This quartet did such a good job in leading their class that they were elected for a second semester.

In addition to their class election, the freshmen selected their five representatives in each of the service organizations. First semester members of the N'Ergettes were Janet Barry, Neola Clark, Mabel Lee, JoAnn Lenser and Joyce Scott. Minute Men included — Pete Berge, Jim Combs, Bill Osterberg, Gordon Johnson and Don Benson. Associate Minute Men members were: Gary Adams, Gary Gettman, John Butterfield, Dick Farner and Craig Swoboda.

When the second semester rolled around there were several changes in the two service groups. N'Ergettes included: Janet Barry, Neola Clark, JoAnn Lenser, Bonnie Spence and Joy Wilson. Minute Men were:

Don Benson, Pete Berge, Jim Dreyer, Gordon Johnson and Lynn Johnson.

Even if the Ninth Period Book statistics showed a large number of freshmen gracing the seats of 301 throughout the year, an equally large number of this class made the six weeks and semester honor rolls. This past year the freshman class was second only to the seniors with the largest number on the honor roll.

In February the lowly freshmen joined the ranks of great (?) dramatists when they put on a clever skit for one of the pep rallies. The skit, based on the story "Little Red Riding Hood," kept the student body in an uproar throughout the performance.

Then of course, there were newcomers in school thought our pep rallies were 'pepper alleys,' and don't forget the freshman who hopefully put down 'vacuum cleaner' for a collective noun. All of these added to the success of the class.

This was the second year for Norfolk High to boast a Student Council and the freshman representatives were Janet Barry and Gordon Johnson

The annual Freshman-Sophomore picnic, held each spring, was judged a great success by all who attended. Keeping tab over the freshmen at the picnic were their sponsors: Miss Fay Gordon, Miss Mary Guenue, Miss Ruth Schmit, Miss Estine Botey and Morton Welch.

Looking over the freshmen and their past year, outstanding debaters are among the group. Many members were active in the glee club, choir and orchestra. Others were setting the pace in G.A.A., F.F.A. and the stage and make-up crews. They do not win every game in football and basketball, but there are several who should have a great future in these sports.

Yes, 1949-50 has developed a fine class of freshmen and the 1950-51 class looks as pace setters at Norfolk High in future years.

"Getting off to a slow start at the beginning of the year, the marching band improved rapidly and was soon recognized as one of the most talented organizations of its kind in school history." This from Merton V. Welch, instrumental music instructor in Norfolk Public Schools for the past eight years.

The band, led by drum major Rex Menuey, participated in all home football games, and took out-of-town trips to Lincoln and Madison. The band also led the parade which climaxed Norfolk's Hallowesta celebration, and participated in another parade for promotion of season football tickets.

The following were selected by the band personnel to serve as band officers: Marian McClelland, manager; Vivian Meierhenry-Joanne Ruehter, librarians; Patty Brt-Joyce Johnson, secretaries; Harold Bussey Jim Asmussen-Larry Hanson-Dennis O'Brien property boys.

There were two full time instrumental music men in the system this year. Merton Welch was assisted by James Johnson, formerly of Scottsbluff, who taught in the grades and in junior high.

The first step in the concert series came when Norfolk played host to the Nebraska Music Educators Clinic, which brought 800 student musicians and 250 educators to the three-day convention. Band representatives were: Noreen Alderman, Jim Asmussen, Bernie Braasch and Don Tarr.

The Concert band's first appearance as a unit, was on December 21, when it presented a Christmas Concert for the high school student body and faculty. This concert was the initial concert ever given solely for the students.

During the winter, a selected group from the concert band furnished the music at the pep rallies and basketball games. Student director of this pep band was Jim Asmussen.

On February 28, the band presented its Winter Concert, under the direction of Merton Welch and James Johnson. Featured in this concert were the band's cornet section and French horn section.

In the spring two events completed the band's program for the year. First was the All-City band festival, with bands from Senior High, Junior High, Junior College, Grade Schools and the American Legion.

The last program on the band's 1949-1950 agenda, was the appearance of the United States Navy band. The proceeds of this program went toward the purchasing of instruments for the high school band.

"Music hath charm," that is what the high school orchestra set out to, and did, prove to all who heard it this past season.

The state music clinic, held this year at Norfolk, was attended by the following from the orchestra: Marilyn Hutton, violin; Marian McClelland, bass viol; Betty Plahn and Lorraine Dieter, French horn; Elaine Perrigo and Janet Burkhardt, flute.

In mid-winter the entire orchestra journeyed to Wayne to attend a clinic there, directed by Emanuel Wishnow of the University of Nebraska.

Highlight of the orchestra's season was the annual Winter Concert. Featured on this year's program were the four first violinists; Betty Plahn, Lorraine Dieter, Marilyn Hutton and Norma Bossard, who played Bohm's "Perpetual Motion."

Hard work and love of music enabled the orchestra to live up to their standard of "top performance."

This year, under the direction of Eugene W. Yeager, the Hi-Note Club, composed of 86 girls, has gone far in giving a boost to the musical reputation of the Norfolk High School. With the Junior High Treble Choir the Hi-Note Club gave a fine performance at the Christmas Vespers. The numbers they sang included: "Praise Ye the Lord," arranged by Olds; "Gesu, Bambino," by Pietro Yon; "Lullaby of the Christ Child," an old French Carol; "How Sweet the Bells of Christmas," by Gustav Klemm; and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones," a 17th Century German.

In the Spring Concert they gave another fine showing as they sang many songs which blended with the theme "Music by Rodgers and Hammerstein." The accompanists for this group were Fauneil Gutzmann and Nancy Hoile.

Another fine musical group this year was the Choraletes. This year, the second for the Choraletes, Dick Farmer, Craig Swoboda, Larry French, Jean Steffen, Betty Plahn, Jackie Drever, Ronnie Burns, and Dale Schwanke were newcomers to the group.

In February they combined with the Triple Trio to give a convocation for the students. Their repertoire included "To Each His Own," by Livingston and Evans,

"Moonglow," by Hudson, De Lange, and Mills, "Mood Indigo," by Ellington, Mills and Bigard, "Sylvia," "Because," by d'Hardelet; and closed their concert with "It's a Grand Night for Singing," by Rodgers.

Their part in the Spring Concert was gay and enlivening to the audience who appreciated their light hearted songs and the beautiful way in which they were presented.

The past school year has been a very eventful one for the Norfolk High School choir. Under the able direction of Eugene Young, the choir has worked hard and by this spring had accomplished a great deal.

The first big event of 1919-20 to the was the inter-state Match Game, which was held in Nodak, I. S., on Nov. 17-19.

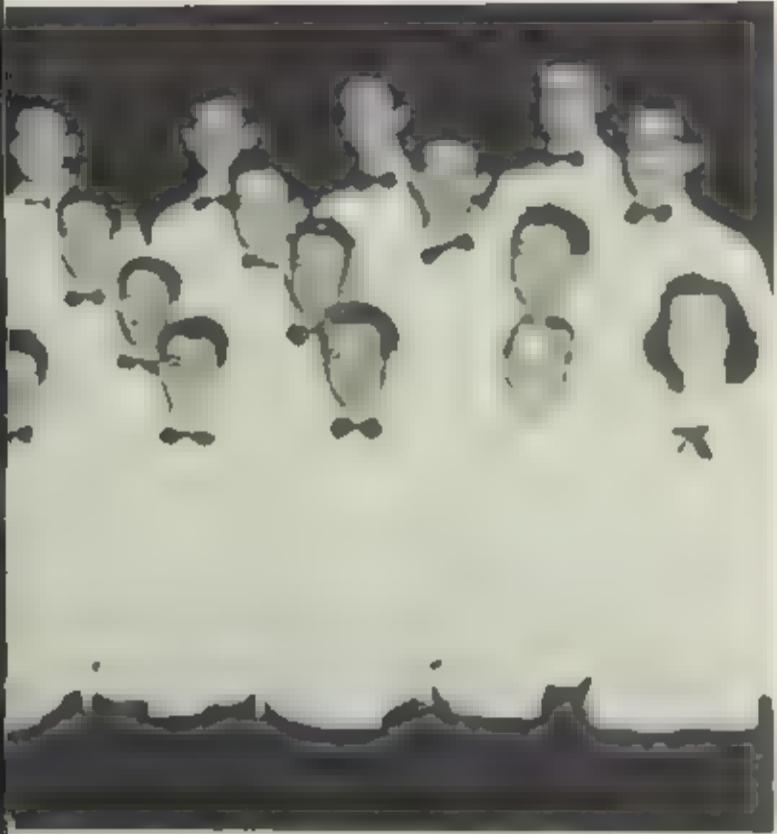

Over 800 students came from all parts of Nebraska to take part in the clinic, either vocal or instrumental, and to lend their talents to the concert which climaxed the three-day festivities.

Fifteen members of the Norfolk choir took part in the 100-voice choral group, who was directed by Warner Ing, choral director of Colorado University. Notably representative tives included: Sue Palmer, Pat Sinter, Jeanne Skillstad, Susan McClelland, Marie McDuffee, Marlene Schmidt, Joan Ruehter, Janet Steffen, Craig Swoboda, Bob Raasch, Dale Schwanke, Gene Eakes, Dan Gimbel, Jim Lindsteadt and Tom Scheurich.

State Music Clinic — Nearly 800 high school students from all parts of Nebraska took part in the annual State Music Clinic held in Norfolk on Nov. 17-18. Some hundred students formed the choir, which combined with band and orchestra groups to present a concert the final night.

The second red-letter day for the vocal group was Dec. 18th, when they joined with the Junior College choir, Hi-Note Club and the junior high choir to present the annual Christmas Vespers at the city auditorium.

The program opened with the traditional candlelight processional after an introduction by the junior high choir and the Hi-Note Club. Then the Junior College and high school choirs combined to sing Christmas selections from three different periods of musical history. A nativity scene was situated between the choirs on the stage.

Another important event for the choir was the annual Albion Music Clinic, held Jan. 20-21. About 40 students from Norfolk's choir traveled to Albion both days to sing under the direction of Chester Francis, choral director at Oklahoma University.

The girls' Triple Trio, made up of nine senior girls, also boast an active season. They sang for many clubs, churches and radio programs during the year, as well as at high school convocations.

With the exception of Jackie Stansberry, who replaced Marla Harms in her sophomore year, all nine girls and their accompanist have been together throughout high school.

The grand finale for all choral groups at Norfolk High School came in the spring with the presentation of the Spring Concert.

Fourth Estate Heads—Jean Steffen and Pat Patterson discuss a new issue of The Panther.

The Panther

"Where's the typing paper?" "How should I start this story?" "Got any idea where Cliff is?" "No. Don't tell me that story was due this morning?" "What can I say in this column?" "How do you spell . . ."

So went the conversations in Room 313, the journalism lab of Norfolk High, as preparations for another issue of the Panther got underway. For one hectic week each month there is no peace in the abode of the Fourth Estate.

Then, after the copy has gone to press, the lab again becomes a scene for fun and merriment; a place for heated arguments over tests, who took whom to the show, and why we should have won Friday's contest; the setting for Junior Class play practice, and even a music center as staff members presented their interpretation of such classics as "Ragtime."

This spring marked the completion of four years of publication for the Panther, however. Norfolk has boasted a school paper for 33 years. In 1917 the Teltal was first published—printed by the Daily News. In 1938 it became a mimeograph paper and remained such until 1946 when the Panther was started.

Guiding the fortunes of this year's publication was Pat Patterson, who also held that post the second semester last year. Helping her with editorials, headlines and page one was Jean Steffen, who served as assistant editor. The financial problems were handled by Marilyn Detbler, business manager, and Lorraine Dieter, assistant business manager.

For the second straight year, Don Tam and Dan Gimbel turned out the sports page, while Lorrayne Bricker, Sue Pflug and Shirley Spence handled the feature writing. General reporting was handled by Noreen Alderman, Joan Cavent, Jeanne Skillstad and Janet Steffen. Serving as adviser for the paper was Luther Heller.

The Milestone

At long last an objective has been accomplished, a dream has been realized. After months of planning, picture-taking and writing, the 1950 Milestone has been completed. The 52nd issue of the Milestone is no longer a mystery behind the locked door of Room 313, but a reality.

When school opened last September, Marilyn Clark was named editor of the Milestone, while Marilyn Hutton was selected as assistant editor. With Luther Heller, Milestone adviser, the girls spent long hours working on themes, covers, page plans, pictures and yearbook sales. Marilyn Deibler, business manager, and Lorraine Dieter, assistant business manager, handled the advertising.

Don Tarr, co-sports editor on the Panther, virtually made 313 a second home, since he also handled the position of sports editor on the Milestone. Feature writers for the annual included Noreen Alderman, Joan Calvert, Elaine Perrigo and Janet Steffen.

By mid-October the plans for the Milestone were complete and later in the month over two-thirds of the pictures were taken. December marked the deadline for junior and senior portrait pictures and in January the rest of the pictures were taken.

In January and early February the staff worked hard to make the copy deadlines and by Febr. 15 only the basketball resume and individual writeups remained. Considerable work was done the second semester by members of the advanced journalism class, which assembled the index, copyread and proofread.

Undoubtedly the most informal class room in the building, the journalism lab was the scene of both hard work and fun. With the Milestone complete and the final edition of the Panther put to press, the members of the two staffs marked "thirty" to the year with a party.

Student Council

The Norfolk High School Student Council has had a busy year during 1949 and 1950. Since the Council was just organized last year, it didn't really get a good start until this year when its fourteen members began their work by electing Charles Gomon as president. Dan Gimbel was chosen to assist him as vice-president. Lorraine Dieter took over the duties of the secretary and Janet Steffen remained treasurer for another year.

The president appointed standing committees for special functions of the council; among these being the social activities committee, the school history committee and the policy investigating committee.

The council brought two speakers for convocations who were Norfolk High graduates. The first was Russell Caauwe, who told of his trip to England. The second was Duane Sellin, who talked to the students about his visit in Finland.

The council sponsored or delegated the sponsorship of all of the school dances, chartered buses, and pep rallies. It assigned the job of sponsoring the Homecoming festivities to the N'Ergettes and Minute Men. They themselves sponsored the Sports King and Queen crowning and dance afterwards. They had charge of the mixer held for the State Music Clinic members in November. They sold concessions to the musicians on a non-profit basis.

In February, the Council held a reception for the faculty members and refreshments were served to the teachers. In response to some requests the Council investigated the school activity fund system and found out how the money is distributed. They posted a chart showing their discoveries.

They discussed regulations for school dances and sent representatives to Dr. Burkhardt to make requests for the changing of some of the rules. They succeeded in receiving permission to invite alumni with high school dates.

All the work of the Student Council was aimed toward achieving their purpose which is to promote school spirit, school activities, understanding between the students and faculty, and to set a good example for inspiration of the students.

F.F.A.

Learning To Do
Doing To Learn
Learning To Live
Living To Serve

That is the motto of the Future Farmers of America.

Any boy who has taken one year of vocational agriculture and has invested $25 or more in a project may belong to this national organization. In it the basic principles of farming studied in vocational agricultural classes are applied to the individual projects.

The Norfolk chapter of F.F.A., under the leadership of Edgar Hamm, vocational agriculture instructor, boasted 32 members this year. Of the group, 14 were freshmen "Greenbacks" initiated into the F.F.A. last fall.

In October the fellows decorated a float for the annual Hallowesta parade in Norfolk and also attended the national plough contest, held in West Point.

During the winter the group organized a basketball team and met the Stanton High F.F.A. team in the "crucial" game of the year.

On March 4, Norfolk was host to the district F.F.A. convention.

Heading the group for the second straight year was Merlin Raabe. Other officers included: Willard Deitloff, vice-president; Tom Schenck, secretary; Melvin Kohlhof, treasurer; Don Radenz, reporter, and Bernard Stauffer, sentinel.

Tri-Hi-Y

Only seven girls remained in the Tri-Hi-Y Club from last year; however, with the addition of new members in September and January, over 30 girls took part in the activities during the year.

The club's program was exceptionally fine, including book reviews, addresses, as well as trips to Columbus and Fremont for Community Concert programs. Among the outstanding personalities the group saw were Conrad Thiebault and Alec Templeton.

On Febr. 25 the second semester officers went to Omaha for a Tri-Hi-Y conference and later in the spring the entire club attended a stage play in Omaha. Trips were also made to Columbus, Fremont and Omaha for volleyball matches. The team won its share of games and a good time was always had on the trips. They also got new suits this year.

Then there were parties. In the fall the girls held a picnic at Ray's Park, with softball highlighting the program. In October they held the annual Hallowe'en date party at Ta-Ha-Zouka Park, which featured the 'spookie room!' The big dance of the year came with the annual Christmas party on Dec. 28 at the YMCA. The girls took their dates to dinner, either at their own homes or to some restaurant, then to the 'Y' for the dance.

The Tri-Hi-Y wheels for 1949-50 included: First semester—Joan Pflug, president; Jean Steffen, vice-president; Marilyn Deibler, secretary; and Carol Weidner, treasurer. Second semester—Jean Steffen, president; Lorraine Dieter, vice-president; Maraleen Callies, secretary; and Marilyn Deibler, treasurer.

Science Club

One of the newest, if not the newest, organizations in Norfolk High is the Science Club, which was formed by the science instructors in late November and boasts 15 members.

With "Live and Learn" as their symbol, these students are striving to improve their knowledge of science through projects. Each member must complete a project during the year to remain in the organization.

Following the completion of a project, it is brought before the club for discussion. Each year Westinghouse offers a Science Talent Test for senior members of science clubs in high schools throughout the United States and scholarships are awarded the winners.

Clark Hoffman served as president during the past year. Other officers included Marilyn Hutton, secretary, and Ken Raschke, historian. Sponsors were Harvey Holcomb, James Manning, Niels Wodder and Ken Woolsey.

Projectionists Club

The Projectionists Club, this year under the direction of Kenneth Woolsey, visual education instructor, was designed for the purpose of operating the audiovisual equipment for the high school teachers.

The 21 members, two of whom were girls, also made plans for the organization of a Motion Picture Club in the future. This is the third year the club has been in existence at Norfolk High School.

During the past year the club sponsored many activities, including films for the student body and a noon-hour program for students that have their noon meals at school. Also on the list were various social events for the club members.

Minute Men

One of the most active boys' groups in Norfolk High this past year has been the Minute Men organization. The members wore the traditional maroon and white jackets proudly on the days of all games and did their share to promote spirit in the school.

The major activities of the Minute Men included working at all athletic events, raising money, boosting school spirit and sponsoring dances.

One of the first things the boys' group did was to assist the N'Llettes in sponing the Homecoming ceremonies and the dance following the Homecoming game. They ushered at all home football and basketball games and were very busy working on the night of the dedication of the new Memorial Field.

In October they handled a coat-and-hat check stand at the annual district teachers' convention, held at Norfolk High on Oct. 28-29. In November the boys sold maroon-and-white pieces, with basketball scenes printed on them, to the students and faculty members.

Friday, Jan. 13th, marked a peak in Minute Men activity as the organization went about to boost school spirit. The members sold "Beat Fremont" tags throughout the morning. In the afternoon they put in a masterpiece in melodrama, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew." Following the victory over Fremont that night, the Minute Men sponsored an all-school dance in the high school gymnasium.

Charles Bugenhagen was elected to the position of presidency for the Minute Men during the first semester. He was assisted by Bob Barnes, vice-president; Harold Dieter, secretary; and Conner Abel, treasurer.

In February the group elected their second semester officers, namely: Charles Gomon, president; Bob Raasch, vice-president; Conner Abel, secretary; George Schipporeit, treasurer; Virgil Baker, sergeant-at-arms.

N'Ergettes

"We put the 'N' in energy" proved to be an appropriate motto for this year's N'Ergettes. They were those vivacious girls running around the halls in white skirts and maroon corduroy jackets on the days of any athletic events.

The N'Ergettes are elected by their respective classes each semester. The group has seven seniors, seven juniors, five sophomores and five freshmen.

The pep club was led by Janet Steffen during the first semester. Other officers included: Jackie Stansberry, vice-president; Lorraine Dieter, secretary; Jeanne Skillstad, treasurer; and Marilyn Deibler, sergeant-at-arms.

N'Ergette Officers — Lorraine Dieter, Marilyn Deibler, Jeanne Skillstad, Janet Steffen, Jackie Stansberry

Freshmen — Janet Barry, Neola Clark, Mabel Lee, Jo Ann Lester, Joanne Scott

Sophomores — Margaret Weber, Marlene Tews, Cherill Holmes,
Marlene Barratt, Daphne Jones

Jackie Stansberry took over as president the second semester, while Jeanne Skillstad moved up to vice-president. Joan Calvert was elected secretary; Maraleen Callies served as treasurer; while Janet Steffen was sergeant-at-arms.

The N'Ergettes participated in and sponsored a great number of activities during the year, including ushering at games and conventions, putting on skits and holding dances and parties.

One of the first activities of the N'Ergettes was the sponsoring of the Homecoming ceremony along with the Minute Men. They also decorated the gym for the Homecoming Dance after the Hastings game.

The group ushered at the annual district teachers' convention, held in Norfolk on Oct. 28-29. They worked at all football games and had an important role in assisting at the dedication of the new Memorial Field. In November they ushered at the concert put on by the students taking part in the State Music Clinic.

The girls sponsored an all-school dance following the Creighton Prep basketball game in mid-December. They used a Candy-Stick Ball theme, decorating the gym in red and white streamers and candy canes. A three-piece band was hired for the occasion.

Miss Mary Guendel served as sponsor for the organization.

Debate

Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people.

This was the subject debated by the members of Norfolk High's debate teams this past year. Under the guidance of Dean Graunke, debate coach, the squad had a very active year and posted many honors, both in team and individual competition.

On Nov. 5 the squad took part in its first debate of the year, entering the Omaha Tech Invitational. Rex Menuey and Bob Raasch posted three wins in four debates; Bob Hawes and Charles Gomon won two out of four rounds; while Mary Johnson and Craig Swoboda won one and dropped three matches.

The following week-end, on Nov. 12, the debate squad attended a debate clinic held at the University of Nebraska. All members participated in a general discussion of the topic and later witnessed an exhibition debate between Nebraska and Illinois University teams.

Norfolk debaters swung back into action at the Nebraska Wesleyan Invitational on Dec. 16-17 in Lincoln. Mary Johnson and Charles Gomon won four out of five rounds, while Craig Swoboda and Bob Hawes won two out of five contests.

In this tourney, Gomon was the outstanding debater and was awarded a medal and scholarship to Nebraska Wesleyan. Hawes and Swoboda came within a point of besting the Missouri Valley Boys' champions of the previous year.

Their initial competition of the second semester came with the Hastings College Invitational on Febr. 10-11. At the contest Charles Gomon and Craig Swoboda, and Sylvia Johnson and Chuck Rossow, were rated as outstanding teams, while Gomon received the nomination of the outstanding speaker.

Other trips included the Fine Arts Festival at Lincoln, the NFL speech contests at Sioux City and Omaha, and the Sioux Falls Invitational.

Thespians

As Tiny Tim raises his crutch with a cheery "God bless you every one!" the final curtain closes on the Thespian's presentation of Dickens' "Christmas Carol." The organization presented the play just before Christmas vacation as one of their yearly projects.

Four phases of dramatic work were carried out by the members in the production. They were acting, directing, stage-work and make-up. Members of the cast were chosen from any students in high school who wished to try out.

Also in the cast were Elaine Danskin and Jimmy Marrow from the first grade at Lincoln School. With Frances Uecker and Miss Hellman, the organization's sponsor, directing, the play proved to be a great success.

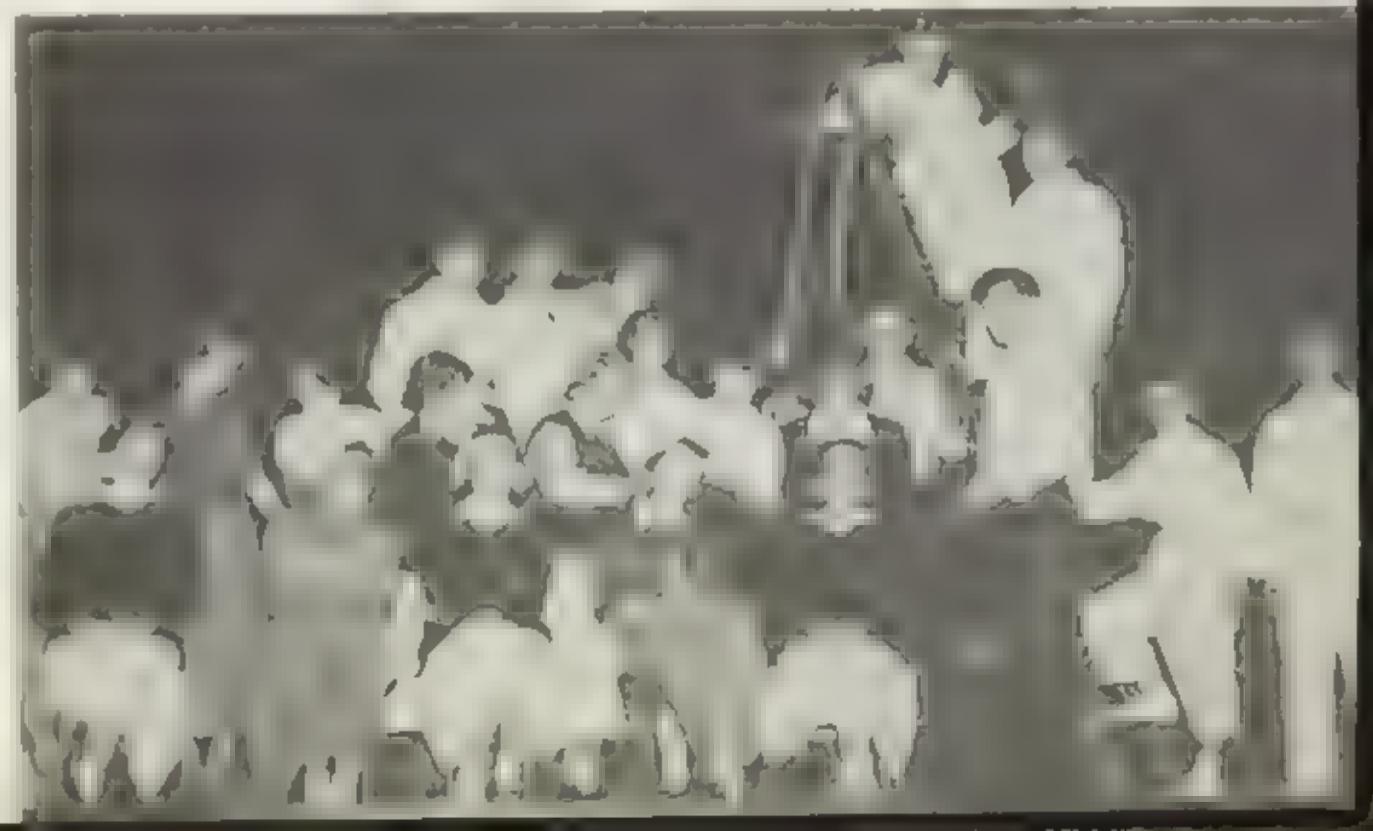

At the beginning of the year there were only twelve members but later several new students were tapped and initiated into the club. Marlene Schmidt was elected present; Dan Gimbel, vice-president; Marilyn Clark, secretary; and Jo Ruehter, treasurer.

Upon organization the Thespians voted to be active this year instead of purely an honorary society. They also ordered silver pins and keys containing the National Thespian emblem. Throughout the year they studied different fields of dramatics and presented several productions, one of which was a one-act play for a pep rally.

Two vitally important crews in the success of any play production are the hard-working stage and make-up crews. Marlene Schmidt is chairman of the make-up crew and has about sixteen girls helping her. Clark Hoffman and Everett Van Doren head the crew of eight stage-hands. The make-up crew is responsible for seeing that the actors are made-up in character for the production. The stage-crew must put in many hours setting up the stage in preparation for a performance. They also have charge of lighting, curtains and radio broadcasts.

Junior Class Play

Comedy at its peak held the spotlight on Valentine's Day when the Junior Class presented "Jenny Kissed Me," under the able direction of Miss Ruth Hellman.

Rex Menuey starred in the lead role of Mr. Trobridge, a rector in his late middle years. Marilyn Deibler portrayed the part of Mrs. Deazy, Mr. Trobridge's housekeeper. Jenny, played by Amy Brown, is Mrs. Deazy's niece from the country.

Jenny comes to visit her aunt and Mr. Trobridge is very put out over having a 'jazzy flapper teenager' in his home. When Jenny becomes interested in Michael, a young educator who boards and rooms at the parish house, Mr. Trobridge decides to get Jenny married off to Owen, a callow type of youth.

Thanks to the efforts of Mr. Trobridge, the triangle between Jenny and Michael, played by George Schipporeit, and Owen, played by Bob Raesch, becomes more and more involved. However, everything works out successfully for Jenny and Michael.

Rounding out the rest of the cast were: Carol Weidner, Ronnie Burns, Noreen Alderman, Bonnie Solfermoser, Kay Mathews, Shirle Spence, Nancy Hoile and Maraleen Callies.

Football

Strategy Board — Head Football Coach Gerry Ellyson diagrams a play for his assistant coaches, Jerry Neely, Cleo Schroeder and John Sherlock, and the Panther squad at an afternoon chalk talk.

From last year's record of two wins and six losses, the Panthers dropped to a black-looking total of one tie and seven defeats in 1949 gridiron warfare.

The greatest feature of the Maroon-and-White gridders was that they played in spurts of halves. Outstanding performances included the first half against Boys Town and the second half against Yankton.

Highlighting the Panther season was the brilliant punting of Jerry Harkrader. He punted 1149 yards on 29 kicks for an average of 39.6 yards per try. His best punt was for 60 yards.

Guiding the Panther gridders for the second year was Gerry Ellyson, while his assistants were Cleo Schroeder, John Sherlock and Jerry Neely. Sherlock was in charge of the reserve squad, while Neely bossed the junior high eleven.

ISLANDERS COP OPENER

The season opened with a 19-0 loss to Grand Island on Sept. 16 at Grand Island. Sparked by Bud John, who tallied two touchdowns and passed to the third, the state champions started to roll late in the first period. John punched over from the one-yard line to climax a 30-yard drive as the period ended. A 40-yard march in the second period ended with John scoring from the four. Grand Island finished its scoring late in the fourth quarter on a four-yard pass from John to Smith.

FREMONT WINS DEDICATION TILT

Norfolk dedicated its new Memorial Field on Sept. 23 with impressive ceremonies and beautiful girls; however, Fremont put a damper on the affair by taking home a 6-0 win. The Bengals tallied the game's only score late in the first period when Tucker raced 15 yards to paydirt on an end-around play. The touchdown was set up by one of 13 fumbles which marred the game. Two last period threats by Norfolk were nipped via penalties.

LATE RALLY FALLS SHORT AT YANKTON

Fighting a huge first-half lead at Yankton on Sept. 29, Norfolk struck twice in the final stanza to wind up on the short end of a 28-12 contest. Andrews was the big gun for the 1948 South Dakota state champions, scoring two touchdowns and passing for the other two. Andrews scored once in the first period, then guided his team to three more tallies in the second stanza. A fired-up club took the field the second half and started rolling late in the third. Bill McGarry passed to Jerry Harkrader for the first score and Wally Walker sprinted 58 yards through the line for the second Panther touchdown.

BOYS TOWN POWER TOO MUCH

An inspired Norfolk eleven gave Boys Town the fight of the season during the first half, only to see the Omahans' reserve power pay off in the second half, 33-0, on Oct. 7 at Norfolk. The famous West Dodgers were held on even terms during the first half, scoring only in the final minutes sparked by All State Jim Gannell, who raced 62 and 40 yards for scores. Boys Town tallied twice in both the third and final quarters. Coach Skip Palrang of Boys Town had high praise for the Panther defensive play.

TIGERS WIN HOMECOMING TILT

A late bid fell short as Norfolk dropped a 13-7 contest to Hastings in the Panthers' Homecoming game on Oct. 21. Ronnie Hart plunged over from the one-yard line as the half ended and Bruce Edwards raced 55 yards off tackle in the third period for Hastings. Norfolk struck back in the final period on a 44-yard march with Harold Kerber scoring from the four. Jerry Harkrader added the point. Time ran out as Norfolk drove to the Tiger 19 in the final minute.

DISCOVERERS GAIN 20-20 TIE

Lady Luck was with Columbus as Norfolk outplayed the host club, only to come up with a 20-20 tie on Oct. 28 in the final Eastern Big Ten game for both teams. The score was tied at each quarter. Norfolk tallied in the first on a two-yard plunge by Jerry Harkrader. Wally Walker scored late in the second period and Harkrader scored again on a two-yard plunge in the fourth. Harkrader and Harold Kerber each posted an extra point. In the final minutes with a 20-13 lead, Harkrader raced 80 yards on an intercepted pass, only to have a penalty nullify the score. The Discoverers then punched across the tying touchdown.

RAIDERS POST 20-0 VICTORY

Sioux City East's Black Raiders made it a bad Dad's Night for the Norfolk Panthers as the Iowans went home on the long end of a 20-0 score on Nov. 4. East scored early in the second period after blocking a Norfolk punt on the Panther 11. In the third period Dwaine Miller scored from the six-yard line and added his second score late in the fourth quarter on a short pass play.

ROCKETS TAKE FINALE

Lincoln Northeast duplicated Sioux City's feat on Nov. 11, posting a 20-0 win over the Panthers on the Capital City gridiron. A fumble set up the first Rocket score in the second period and straight power accounted for third and fourth period scores. The Panthers marched to the Northeast five late in the game before losing the ball on downs.

WILLIE RAKKE — Willie started the season at center and soon shifted back to his old guard slot, where he was outstanding on defense. He was elected co-captain at the end of the season and awarded the Granada The-

DUKE FAAGER — An outstanding end, Duke put considerable action throughout the year. His fine pass-catching and defensive play will be missed next season.

RONNIE BURNS — Another outstanding end, Ronnie was outstanding on defense. He is a good receiver and will be a strong candidate on next year's team.

BOYD CHILDERS — A big boy, Boyd made the opposition back down more than once. His replacement will have to dig in and pull to plug up the holes like he did.

GENE EAKES — Gene did a good job at center back when he was on the team. The surprising fact got in Duke's way now, making him outstanding next fall.

DON LINNIS — Running back, Don's blocking has been excellent in his varsity appearances. Although light, he runs hard and is a good receiver. Watch him next year.

MEL FREEMAN — Mel used his speed from his track and turned into a fast receiver. He demonstrated this in the final period of the Northeast game.

DAN GIMBEL — Returning to the sport after a year's forced absence, Dan won the starting center spot and played guard and linebacker on defense. He was also elected co-captain for 1949 and won the Grakada award for his stellar playing.

MICKEY GRAY—As a rugged tackle Mickey can expect to see considerable action the next two years. He's big and the football know-how he has accumulated will be an asset.

JERRY HARKRADER—As a hard-running fullback and a stellar punter, Jerry was a vital cog in the Panther backfield. The college that gets him will have an outstanding player on its team.

ED JOHNSON — A small hard-hitting guard, Ed will be missed next year. He showed considerable improvement as the season progressed.

HAROLD KERBER — Despite some early season difficulty, Harold bounced back to play an important role in late season games. A prior, he handled both halfback and fullback positions equally well.

DUANE KESTING — Dick was one of the reserve backs who saw considerable action during the season. He should be a valuable asset next year.

LAWRENCE KOELLER — A second string center, Lawrence lost some teeth in practice, but continued to show lots of fight. He will be a leader next year.

DICK KNUTSON — At 5' 9", 190 lbs., 'Knut' made a good impression for himself as an all-around football player. He competition and will be a top contender for a starting berth next season.

LEON LAUVER — 'Squint' absorbed plenty of ribbing during his grid years, but he showed up good on the field. He was big and he worked hard all the time.

DUANE LENSTER — Although only a sophomore, 'Mutt' showed definite ability and promise. The grid fans will see a lot of this boy the next two seasons.

JIM LINDSTEADT — Although Jim played an off-field role and gave the opponents something to think about. He moved from nothing two years ago to a good player this year.

BILL MCGARRY — In his first season on the team, Bill turned into a fine field general and put on a show of his own with his passing. Northeast. If Bill McGarry had more experience, he would have been one of the best in the conference.

NEIL McDANIEL — 'Red' was always trying hard and managed to break into the scoring column constantly in reserve contests. Although he is light, a good future lies ahead for this fiery halfback.

BOB NEISON — 'Peanuts' tried out at quarterback, but was shifted to the fullback spot, where he looked impressive. He will do a good job in handling Harkrader's vacancy next year.

RONNIE SANDERS — Out for the first time, Ronnie turned into a good guard. He liked the roughness of the game and added plenty of his own fight to it.

CLIFF SCHOEP — Cliff is one of the fine sophomores who gave a good account of himself this year and will be carrying a lot of the load in the line for the next two years.

DICK SWOOPER — It's been a bit in his line of performance this year, his fourth on the varsity. As a leading pass-catcher, he will be greatly missed next year.

WALLY WALKER — With two years still left, Wally promises to be one of Norfolk's "greats" in football. His brilliant running from the halfback spot was a highlight in every game this past season. He will be a great leader next year.

LLOYD WERNER — A rough boy on the gridiron, Lloyd opened plenty of holes at the tackle slot. His absence next autumn will put a big load on the boy who tries to replace him.

Basketball

Norfolk High's 1949-50 basketball campaign shows a record of five wins against 10 defeats, however, these figures fail to tell the complete story of the past season.

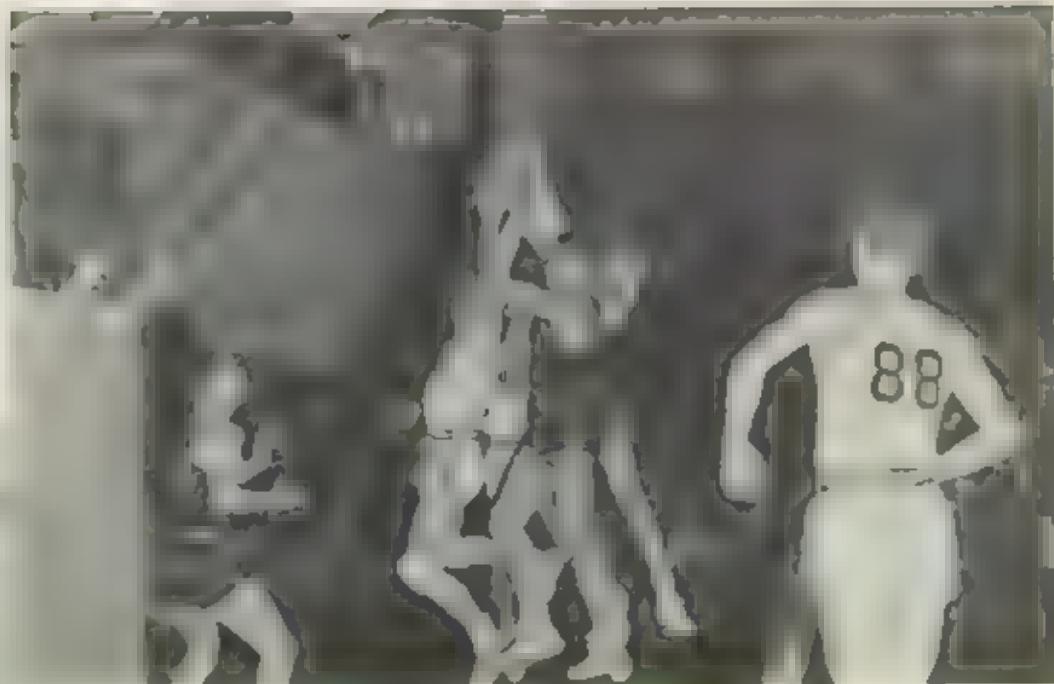

Nearly every contest found the Maroon-and-White cagers giving away a height advantage, however, what they lacked in height they made up for in fight and spirit.

Only once was the Panther quintet decisively beaten, by powerful Lincoln Northeast, Nebraska's state champions in 1949 and 1950. Over the 15-game schedule, Coach Bu Grosscup's cagers were outscored by only 67 points, 494 to 561.

With only two weeks of practice following football season, the Panthers had a cold opening night on Dec. 2, dropping a 30-17 contest to Yankton on the local court. The Dakotans jumped to an early lead and held a 20-6 halftime advantage. Bill McGarry lit six points to lead the Norfolk offensive.

The following week-end found Norfolk hitting its winning stride, pasting Pierce, 18-10, on Dec. 9 at Pierce. Sparked by Bob Sullivan and Fred Gakle with 12 and 11 points, respectively, Norfolk rolled to a 23-10 halftime margin and was never in serious trouble.

Battle Royal — Gordon Johnson (86) and Dick Barger (89) vie with two Yankton cagers for a rebound during the Norfolk-Yankton fray

Wild Scramble — Dick Barger out-stretches several Norfolk and Wayne cagers to recover a rebound under the Wayne basket

Wayne's Blue Devils played host to Norfolk on Dec. 10 and the Panthers turned in a near-perfect contest, chalking up a 40-22 win. Bill McGarry paced the Panthers with 11 points as they romped to an 18-11 lead at the intermission.

Gene Eake's short shot with 10 seconds left gave Norfolk a 35-34 thriller over Creighton Prep on Dec. 16 at the city auditorium. The contest was actually two games, Norfolk building up a 25-15 halftime lead, then Creighton Prep dominated the second half until the final seconds. Bill McGarry again headed Norfolk with 12 points.

Northeast's defending state champs ended the three-game winning streak for Norfolk, handing the Panthers a 46-24 setback on Jan. 6 in Norfolk. Paced by all-state Paul Fredstrom's 26 points, Northeast rolled at will. The Rockets led by 23-10 at the half. Fred Gakle hit seven counters to pace Norfolk.

The top thriller on the local court came on Friday, Jan. 13th, when an underdog Fremont five fell before a late Norfolk rally, 47-44. Fremont led by 26-19 at the half and enjoyed a 41-34 margin with three minutes left when Verlin Glass sparked the winning bid. Dick Swogger tallied 13 points to pace the Panther scorers.

After pulling a stunning third period rally against Hastings, Norfolk fell apart in the final period to drop a 46-37 contest to the Tigers on Jan. 21 at Hastings. The Panthers led 14-9 at the quarter, trailed by 29-19 at the half, then tied the score at 33-33 when the third period ended. Dick Swogger topped the Maroon-and-White with 10 points.

Failure to play ball four complete periods cost Norfolk a 38-32 heartbreaker to Sioux City East on Jan. 28 at the city auditorium. The Panthers grabbed an early lead and enjoyed a 20-14 halftime margin. East cut the deficit to 28-24 as the third period ended, then pulled away mid-way in the fourth stanza. Bill McGarry hit eight points to lead Norfolk.

Grand Island's Big Ten Conference champions took advantage of the charity line to hand Norfolk a 36-21 defeat on Febr. 3 at Norfolk. The Islanders hit only nine fielders, but picked up 18 free throws. They held a 22-13 halftime margin. Verlin Glass, just elevated to the starting five, topped the scorers with eight points.

Meet the Panthers — Coach Bu Grosscup, Neil McDaniel, Fred Gakle, Jerry Musseman, Bill McGarry, Gene Eakes, Wally Robbins, Dick Swogger, Verlin Glass, Dick Barger, Bob Sullivan, Wally Walker, Dan Gimbel, Bob Hawes.

Bouncing back from the Grand Island loss, Norfolk dropped an overconfident York quintet in a 41-40 thriller on Febr. 1 at York. Bill McGarry hit 13 points as the Panthers pulled away from a 21-21 halftime to ice the game in the final two minutes.

Failure to hit consistently at any time during the game resulted in a 40-25 setback for the Panthers at Beatrice on Febr. 10. The Orangemen grabbed an early lead and held a 24-13 halftime margin. Bill McGarry's nine points were high for Norfolk.

A spirited second-half rally fell short as the Columbus Discoverers pulled a 39-35 decision out of the fire in an Eastern Big Ten game with Norfolk on Febr. 17 at Columbus. The winners held a 24-11 halftime margin, then Norfolk rallied to pull within 37-32 with two minutes left. Dick Swogger hit nine points to pace Norfolk.

Pulling away in the final minutes of play, Lincoln Central's rangy quintet throttled a scrappy Norfolk five, 36-31, on Febr. 24 at Lincoln. The Panthers made it a thriller for 28 minutes, enjoying an 11-11 tie at the quarter and trailing by only 18-15 at the half. They trailed by 28-22 at the three-quarter mark, but pulled up to a 31-28 deficit with four minutes left. Bob Sullivan was high scorer with 10 points.

After leading the touted Golden Vikings of Omaha North until early in the third period, Norfolk's defense fell apart and the Omahans pulled out with a 46-38 win on March 1 at Norfolk. Sparked by Bill McGarry's 12 points, Norfolk rolled to a 22-11 halftime, then North caught fire and went into a 28-25 lead as the third period ended. The contest ended regular season play for Norfolk.

The best game of the year was turned in by Norfolk in the opening round of the Class A district tournament at Grand Island, however, Lady Luck frowned upon the Panthers in the dying seconds and Hastings came out on top in a 34-33 thriller.

Norfolk played brilliant ball as the Maroon-and-White moved to a 6-5 margin at the quarter and held a 16-16 tie at the half. The Panthers moved to a 25-24 lead going into the final period. Trailing by 31-28, Norfolk poised a lead on the shooting of Bob Sullivan in the final minute, 33-32, only to have a substitute center hit a jump shot in the final 10 seconds for Hastings.

Bill McGarry was the season's leading scorer for Norfolk with 115 points, while Bob Sullivan was runner-up with 90. Fred Gakle had 77, Dick Swogger hit 72 and Dick Barger had 36 to round out the top five.

DICK BARGER—A senior, Dick played center on the first five during the latter part of the season and made an impressive showing in foot play and rebounding. In addition to his fine defensive work, Dick poured in 36 points during the season.

GENE EAKES—One of the tallest players on the team, Gene was on the starting five until sickness caused him to sit out in the season. At the fall games at Albion, Gene will be counted on for his heavy rebounding and the big scores next year.

FRED GAKLE—Another senior is Fred, who wound up third in the individual scoring race at Norfolk. Besides being a leading scorer, Fred was a tough man on defense. The Maroon-and-White will miss his all-around playing ability.

VERLIN GLASS—Although Verly didn't start many contests this year, he did a fine job when he entered a contest. He made a good showing against Grand Island and with that type of playing he should be a leading candidate for a starting berth next year.

GORDON JOHNSON—Gordy dropped in seven points and played good defensive ball before a knee injury forced him to drop the sport after the third game. On a freshman, Gordon may develop into one of Norfolk's finest if his knee heals properly.

NEIL M. DANIEL—Neil was on the starting squad and played his best basketball last year and is serving another. He has gained much valuable experience that should be an asset next season. He makes up for his lack of height in spark and fire.

BILL M. GALLIGAN—A member of the starting five for the third straight year, Bill led the Panthers in the long distance and was the outstanding spark plug of the team. His long shots kept Norfolk in the running throughout the year and earned him all Eastern Big Ten first team honors. He was elected co-captain by the team.

JERRY MUSSELMAN—An up-and-coming junior, Jerry, a substitute who saw plenty of action during the year. He hit his peak at York when he sparked the Panthers to an upset win over the Dukes. His height and shooting will be a big factor to consider next year.

WALLY ROBBINS—A freshie from Albion, Wally wound up his prep career winning the Maroon-and-White. He played at all three positions and captained the team in the Lincoln Central contest.

POB SULLIVAN—Making the starting five as a freshman was the honor attained by Sulli, who was also considered the best long shot player. He hit his peak with 17 points against Hastings in the district tourney and will be a leader next year.

DICK SWOGGER—A dependable and steady player, Sub pour'd his heart into the sport, his last two years at Norfolk. Sub was noted for his corner shots and fine defensive rebounding. His place will be hard to fill next year. Sub was elected co-captain of the team.

WALLY WALKER—Showing a great deal of strength, his speed and deception, Wally will undoubtedly be a standout for the two remaining years at Norfolk. He is a cool player and a fast runner off the and defense.

"Unsung Heroes" — Norfolk's student managers, Dan Gimbel, Bob Hawes and Gordon Johnson, check in equipment for the Panther cagers

Reserve Cagers — Dick Best, Pete Berge, Bob Nelson, Don Ennis, Dennis O'Brien
Gale Musseman, Don _____, M. McCoy, Neil Anderson, Don Benson, Gerald Moore, Dick Knudson, Coach Cleo Schaefer.

Reserves

Handicapped by a lack of height, the Norfolk reserves made up for this with speed and fight as they battled their way through a winning basketball campaign. During the 1949-50 season, the Cubs posted five wins against two defeats, and both losses were by two-point margins.

Norfolk's reserve cagers opened their season by dropping a heartbreaking 18-16 decision to the Yankton reserves. They bounced back by drubbing Pierce's reserves, 21-8, and edged the Wayne reserves, 27-19. A powerful Leigh varsity rallied to cop a 25-23 thriller.

The Cubs then wound up their season with three straight wins, stopping the Meadow Grove varsity, 25-18; Fremont's reserves, 23-21; and the Columbus reserves, 20-19.

George Stoffer, Lynn Johnson, Craig Swoboda, Ray Gettman.

Pep, Inc.—Norfolk High's five cheerleaders lead the student body, while the pep band cuts loose with a fight song during one of the pre-game pep rallies.

Pep

Clever and witty rallies at which everyone becomes hoarse trying to outyell his neighbors . . . Wacky skits that featured the 'talent' of Norfolk High . . . Game nights when students sat together, some with their 'one and only' . . . Others sitting by themselves but watching 'their' heroes become 'our' heroes.

Such events are made memorable for the average high school student because of one thing—pep!

Heading the production line of pep at Norfolk High this year were the five cheerleaders, along with the Minute Men and N'Tigettes. These morale-builders held pep rallies prior to every football and basketball game, turned out en masse for all home games and chartered buses for several out-of-town contests. In the fall they held the annual Snake Dance and bon-fire, the night before the East game.

When September rolled around, Jean Steffen was the only returning veteran cheerleader. Marilyn Rahder had been elected by the students last spring, so these two girls formed the nucleus. Bob Tawney, Sue Palmer and Shirle Spence were elected by the student body prior to the Fremont game and these five carried on as Norfolk's Big Five in pep for 1949-50.

Tawney was selected as head cheerleader and under his direction new yells were added to the pep programs. The pep band, under the direction of Merton Welch, played a valuable part at all rallies and home games. This has been a great year for pep and with Jean and Shirle back next fall, another year of outstanding rallies is on tap.

Track

As the Milestone went to press, Coach Bu Grosscup issued his first call for track candidates. Norfolk's prospects for the 1950 cinder campaign were of the unknown quality, however, with 12 major and minor lettermen back to spark a large squad, the Panther outlook was promising.

Five veterans were back to carry the load in the sprint events, including: Virgil Baker, Mel Freeman, Jerry Harkrader, Duane Lenser and Wally Walker. Middle-distance runners were headed by five vets: Ronnie Burns, Lloyd Davis, Gene Eakes, Rex Menuey and Dick Swogger. Carrying the load in the field events were Mickey Gray, Leon Lauver and Harkrader.

Heading the Maroon-and-White cinder slate were the annual Norfolk Invitational, Columbus Invitational, Big Ten Conference, District qualifying meet and the State meet.

G.A.A.

Little publicity was accorded the activities of the G.A.A. members of Norfolk High, however, under the leadership of Miss Gertrude Nolte, girls physical education instructor, the group had a very active year.

Twenty girls joined G.A.A. the first semester, the largest number to ever enroll in Norfolk High history, while 10 joined for an extra class the second semester.

Heading the girls was Arlene Tomasek, president; Violet Tews, vice-president; and Marilyn Weihe, secretary.

Their fall activities opened with a weiner roast at Johnson's Park, followed by several long hikes around the nearby countryside. The sports season opened with softball and touch football games at the city park.

During the winter they played volleyball, meeting the junior high team and women faculty team several times during the season. The trampoline was added to the G.A.A. schedule and when the icy weather set in, members enjoyed ice-skating at Ta-Ha-Zouka Park.

During the late winter, basketball headed their activities and they played the junior high team several times. Pacing the senior high girls were Arlene Tomasek and Violet Tews. In the spring, softball, hikes, archery and parties headed the agenda.

Individual plaques were awarded to Violet Tews and Arlene Tomasek, four-year letter winners. Shields were awarded to Jeanette Gordon, Daphne Jones, Cherrill Holmes, Mary Jo Barnes, Sylvia Johnson, Marilyn Weihe, Gayle Palmer, Delta Klug, Delores Cook, Shirley Mauk, Gloria Mrsny, Marilyn Wade and Mary Johnson. Also receiving recognition are LaVonne Kramer, Bonnie Spence and Donna Buettow, who, because of late registration, will not receive awards.

Homecoming

Norfolk High School's fifth annual Homecoming celebration was held on Oct. 21, with the coronation ceremony highlighting the halftime activities of the Norfolk-Hastings game.

The halftime ceremony began when the Norfolk band marched onto the field and formed a large "H" for Hastings, then a large "N" for Norfolk and played the school song.

Then, while the band formed a large heart, the lights on the field were turned out and red hearts, handled by the Minute Men, appeared at each end of the field. The Queen and her attendants were then driven onto the field in two convertibles.

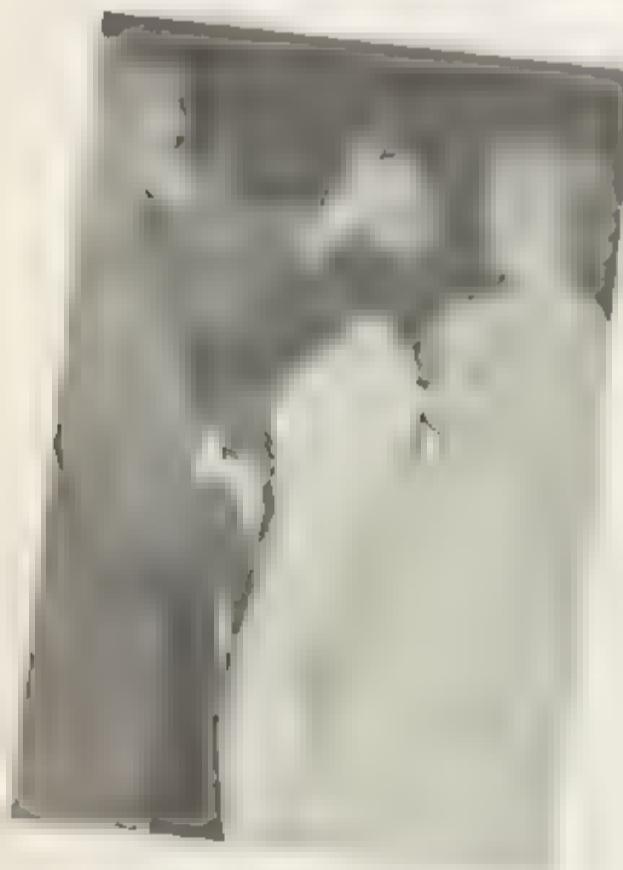

Marilyn Clark, a senior, was revealed as Norfolk's 5th Homecoming Queen, while her attendants were Jeanne Skillstad and Janet Steffen.

Homecoming Royalty — Marilyn Clark, Norfolk's 5th Homecoming Queen, and her attendants, Janet Steffen and Jeanne Skillstad, reign over the traditional Homecoming game, played against Hastings.

Mrs. Clark and her attendants were then introduced and crowned by Coach Gerry Elyson. The Queen received a gift and a bouquet of red carnations from the students, while the attendants were presented smaller bouquets. The royalty was then driven around the field while the band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Although Norfolk failed to win its Homecoming battle, the Panthers punched across one touchdown in the final period and were headed for another just before the game ended, 13-7, Hastings. After the contest, a dance was held in honor of the Queen for students and graduates at the high school gymnasium. Decorations included a large maroon crown and streamers from the ceiling.

Crowning Ceremonies — Football Coach Gerry Elyson places a crown on Norfolk's 1949 Homecoming Queen during the halftime ceremonies of the Panther-Tiger contest.

Sports Royalty — Marilyn Clark and Bill McGarry reigned as Sports Queen and King for 1950 at Norfolk High. Their attendants were Fred Gakle and Jeanne Skillstad.

Bill McGarry and Marilyn Clark were crowned Sports King and Queen of Norfolk High for 1950 during a colorful half-time ceremony at the Norfolk-Omaha North basketball game on March 4.

The royal pair were presented by Charles Gomon, president of the Student Council. They were crowned by their attendants, Jeanne Skillstad and Fred Gakle. All four are members of the Senior Class and were selected by members of the student body.

Following the coronation, flowers and other gifts were presented to the quartet by members of the Student Council on behalf of their respective classes.

Miss Clark and Miss Skillstad reigned over the remainder of the game, while McGarry and Gakle resumed their positions on the Panther varsity. After the game, a dance was held in the city auditorium for the students. The coronation and dance were sponsored by the Student Council.

Marilyn Clark was chosen by the student body to represent Norfolk Senior High as its princess at the dedication ceremonies for Norfolk's new $150,000 Memorial Field.

Over 4,000 people attended the ceremonies and the football game between Norfolk and Fremont on Sept. 23. Miss Clark, Deana McGrath, Sacred Heart High Senior, and Mary Ann Mathews, Norfolk Junior College, were presented during the half-time festivities.

Dedication Princess — Marilyn Clark was chosen Norfolk High's princess for the dedication ceremonies of Memorial Field on Sept. 23.

Jr.-Sr. Prom

Headlining this year's social activities at Norfolk High was the annual Junior-Senior Prom, held on April 28 at the city auditorium.

In view of the current year, 1950, serving as the mid-point of the 20th Century, the Junior Class chose "Mid-Century Musings" for its theme — reviewing the highlights of the past 50 years.

The theme was well-presented in the decorations, arrangement of the dinner and dance, and the presentation of the Prom Queen. Officers of the Junior Class, under the direction of President George Schipporeit, headed the various committees.

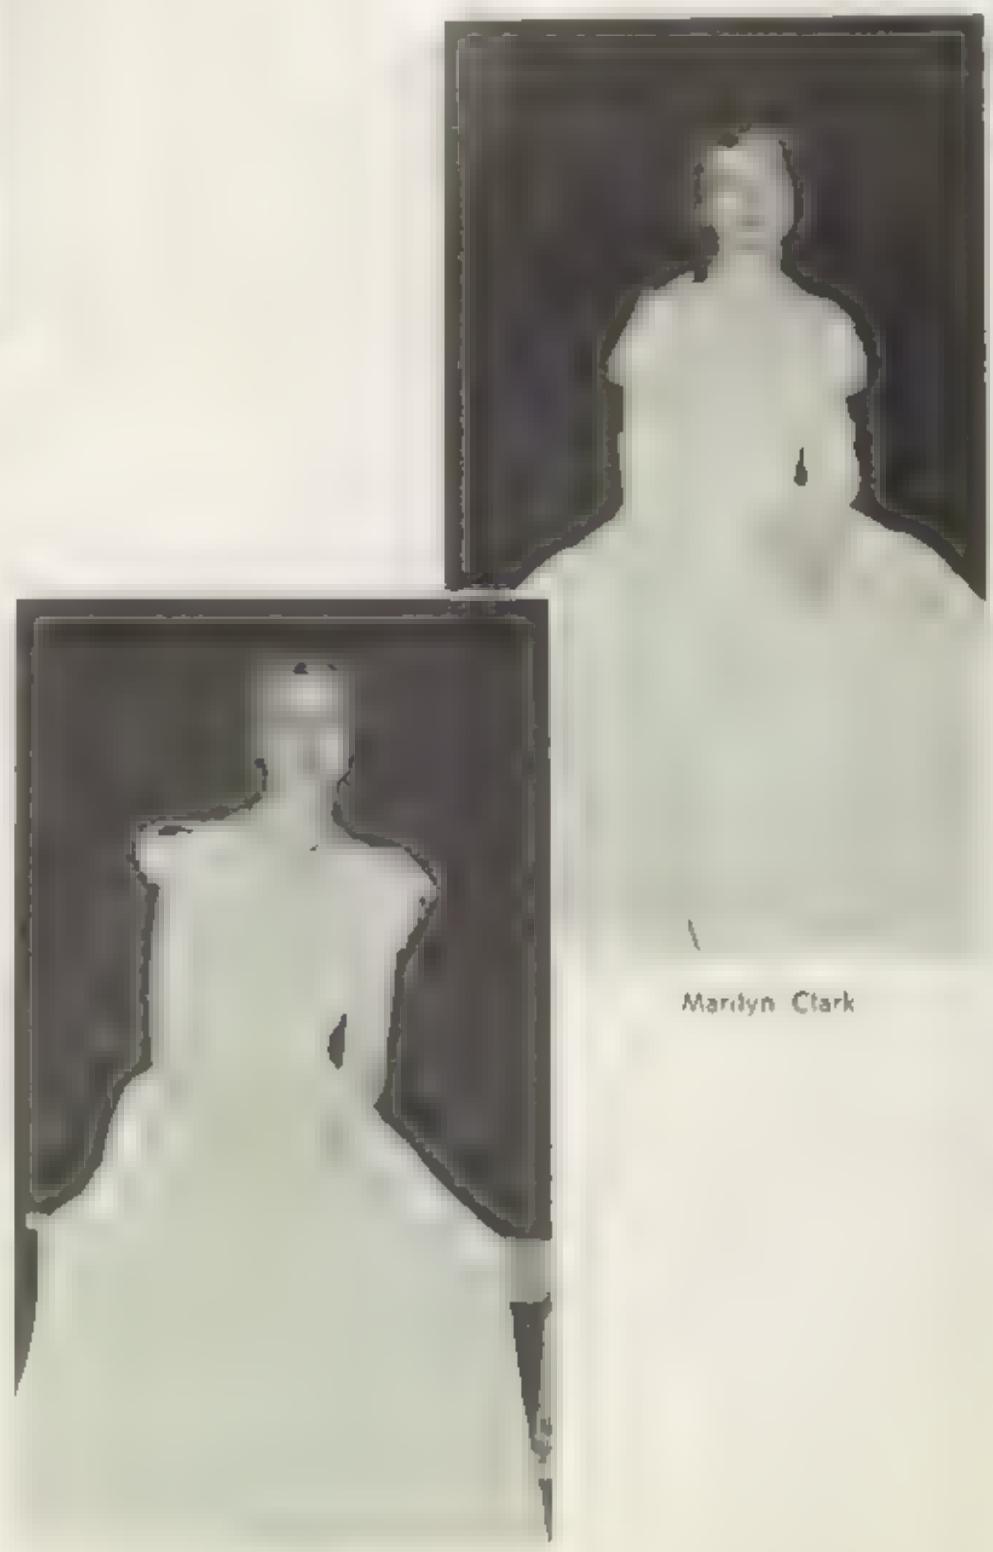

Members of the Senior Class, faculty and school board were guests at the annual affair. Serving as waiters and waitresses for the event were members of the Sophomore Class.

A brief program followed the dinner, with Schipporeit serving as master of ceremonies. Then came the highlight of the evening, the presentation of the Prom Queen.

Preceded by her two attendants, Marilyn Clark and Janet Steffen, Jeanne Skillstad was revealed as the 1950 Prom Queen. All three girls, seniors, had been elected earlier this year by the juniors. Ronnie Burns served as master of ceremonies for the coronation.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Tony Bradley and his orchestra.
